Holt Teacher Advisory Panel

As members of the Holt World Languages Teacher Advisory Panel, the following teachers made a unique and invaluable contribution to the ¡Exprésate! Spanish program. They generously shared their experience and expertise in a collaborative group setting and helped refine early materials into the program design represented in this book. We wish to thank them for the many hours of work they put into the development of this program and for the many ideas they shared.

¡Muchísimas gracias a todos!

Authors

Nancy Humbach

Nancy Humbach is Associate Professor and Coordinator of Languages Education at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio. She has authored or co-authored over a dozen textbooks in Spanish. A former Fulbright-Hayes Scholar, she has lived and studied in Colombia and Mexico and has traveled and conducted research throughout the Spanish-speaking world. She is a recipient of many honors, including the Florence Steiner Award for Leadership in the Foreign Language Profession and the Nelson Brooks Award for the Teaching of Culture.

Sylvia Madrigal Velasco

Sylvia Madrigal Velasco was born in San Benito, Texas. The youngest of four siblings, she grew up in the Rio Grande Valley, between two cultures and languages. Her lifelong fascination with Spanish has led her to travel in many Spanish-speaking countries. She graduated from Yale University in 1979 and has worked for over 20 years as a textbook editor and author at various publishing companies. She has written bilingual materials, video scripts, workbooks, CD-ROMs, and readers.

Ana Beatriz Chiquito

Professor Ana Beatriz Chiquito is a native of Colombia. She teaches Spanish linguistics and Latin American culture at the University of Bergen, Norway, and conducts research and develops applications for language learning at the Center for Educational Computing Initiatives at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. She has taught Spanish for more than thirty years and has authored numerous textbooks, CD-ROMs, videos, and on-line materials for college and high school students of Spanish.

Stuart Smith

Stuart Smith began her teaching career at the University of Texas at Austin from where she received her degrees. She has been a professor of foreign languages at Austin Community College, Austin, Texas, for over 20 years and has been writing textbook and teaching materials for almost as long. She has given presentations on language teaching methodology at ACTFL, SWCOLT, and TCCTA.

John McMinn

John McMinn is Professor of Spanish and French at Austin Community College, where he has taught since 1986. After completing his M.A. in Romance Linguistics at the University of Texas at Austin, he also taught Spanish and French at the secondary level and was a Senior Editor of World Languages at Holt, Rinehart and Winston. He is co-author of both Spanish and French textbooks at the college level.

El español, ¿por qué?

Why Study Spanish?

Por lo mundial Because it's worldwide

Spanish is the fourth most commonly spoken language in the world. You can visit any one of 21 countries in the world that speak Spanish and feel at home. Even in the United States, knowing Spanish can open doors to you.

So whether you're in Europe, North, Central, or South America, or even Africa, as a Spanish speaker you won't have to rely on someone else to watch television or read a newspaper. You'll learn things on your own. You'll truly be a citizen of the world.

Por lo bello Because it's beautiful

You'll be amazed to discover how rich the Spanish-speaking world is in works of music, literature, science, religion, and art. The novels of Miguel de Cervantes or Isabel Allende, the paintings of Fernando Botero or Frida Kahlo, the poetry of Gabriela Mistral or Pablo Neruda: all these treasures and many more await you as you explore the Spanish-speaking world.

Ceramic tiles form this mural by Dominican artist Said Musa.

Traditional painted carts in Costa Rica are a part of El Festival de las Carretas.

The fountain of Cibeles, named after the goddess Cybele, is one of Madrid's best-known landmarks.

Por lo práctico Because it's practical

You're living in the country with the fifth-largest Hispanic population in the world, more than 33 million people. And whether they're originally from Mexico, Puerto Rico, or Cuba—or from any other part of Latin America or Spain—almost nine out of ten are Spanish speakers.

Businesses, government agencies, educational institutions, and other employers will be looking for more bilingual employees every year. Give yourself an edge in the job market with Spanish!

Bilingual doctors, nurses, and others in the field of medicine provide care for Spanish-speaking patients.

Patricia Janiot is a popular anchor at the Spanish language news department of CNN en Español.

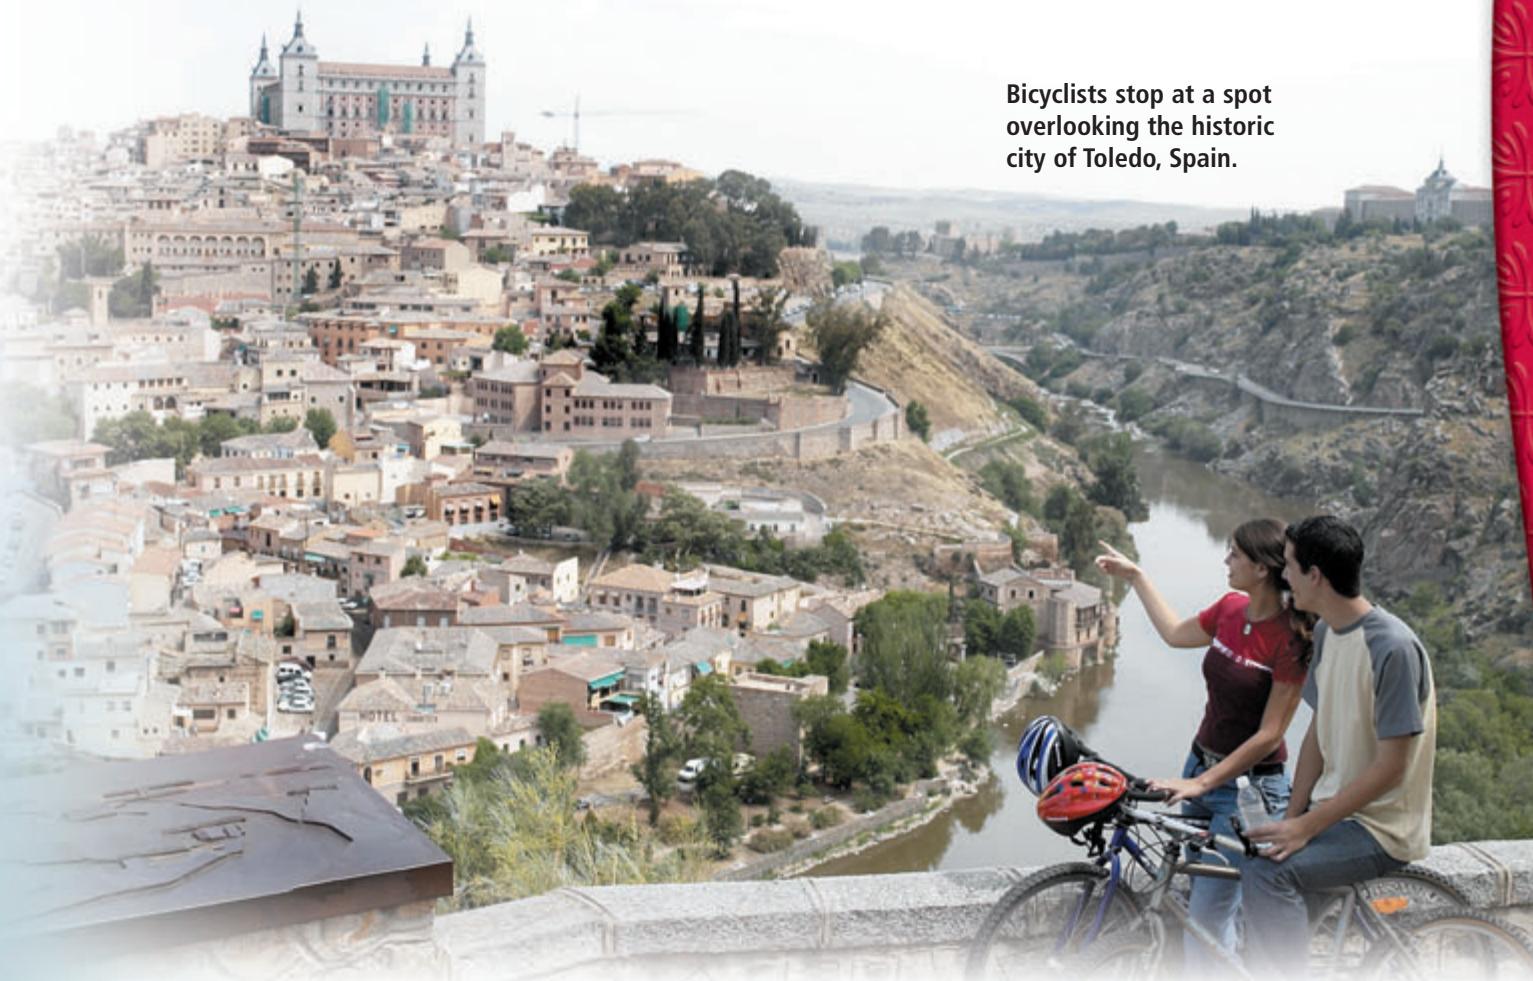

Miami is an international center and a multicultural hub for Latin American trade.

¡Porque puedes! Because you can do it!

Applying your learning skills to a new language will be challenging at first. But you have the tools you need to do the job. And you're lucky to be living at a time when there are almost no limits to your opportunities to practice Spanish. You can interact with Spanish speakers not just in your community but all over the world, via pen pal organizations, the library, or a multitude of resources and online networks.

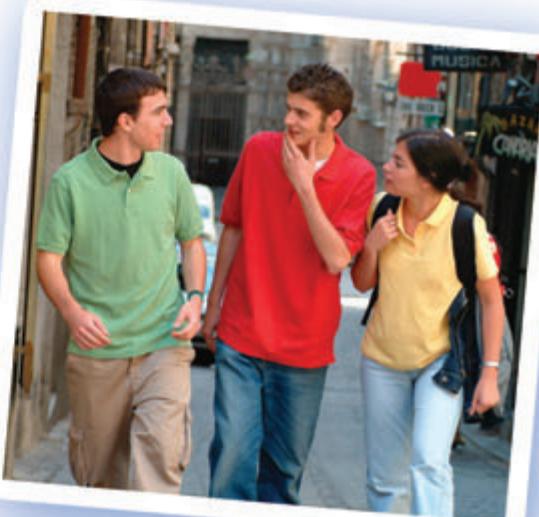

Bicyclists stop at a spot overlooking the historic city of Toledo, Spain.

En fin, porque sí Finally, just because...

The best reason of all to study Spanish is because you want to! You know better than anyone what motivated you to enroll for Spanish class. It might be one of the reasons given here, such as getting a job, learning about world issues, or enjoying works of art. Or it might be something more personal, like wanting to communicate with Spanish-speaking friends and family, or travel. So pat yourself on the back and ¡Exprésate!

Young people in Segovia, Spain, enjoy a walk after classes.

Here are some phrases you'll probably hear in your classroom, along with some responses.

Phrases:

Tengo una pregunta.

I have a question . . .

¿Cómo se dice...?

How do you say . . . ?

¿Cómo se escribe...?

How do you spell . . . ?

No entiendo. ¿Puede repetir?

I don't understand. Could you repeat that?

Más despacio, por favor.

More slowly, please.

¿Sabes qué significa
(quiere decir)...?

Do you know what . . . means?

Gracias.

Thank you.

Perdón.

I'm sorry.

Responses:

¿Sí? Dime.

Yes? What is it?

Se dice...

You say . . .

Se escribe...

It's spelled . . .

Claro que sí.

Yes, of course.

No, no sé.

No, I don't know.

Sí, significa (quiere decir)...

Yes, it means . . .

De nada.

You're welcome.

Está bien.

It's okay.

Here are some things your teacher might ask you to do.

Levanten la mano.

Tips for learning Spanish

Listen

Listen carefully in class and ask questions if you don't understand. You won't be able to understand everything you hear at first, but don't feel frustrated. You are actually absorbing a lot even when you don't realize it.

Visualize

It may help you to visualize the words you are learning. Associate each new word, sentence, or phrase with a mental picture. For example, if you're learning words for foods, picture each food in your mind and think about the colors, smells, and tastes associated with it. If you are learning about the weather, picture yourself standing in the rain, or fighting a strong wind—something that will help you associate an image with the word or phrase you are learning.

Practice

Short, daily practice sessions are more effective than long, once-a-week sessions. Also, try to practice with a friend or a classmate. After all, language is about communication, and it takes two to communicate.

Speak

Practice speaking Spanish aloud every day. Don't be afraid to experiment. Your mistakes will help identify problems, and they will show you important differences in the way English and Spanish work as languages.

Explore

Increase your contact with Spanish outside class in every way you can. Maybe someone living near you speaks Spanish. It's easy to find Spanish-language programs on TV, on the radio, or at the video store, and many magazines and newspapers in Spanish are published or sold in the United States and are on the Internet. Don't be afraid to read, watch, or listen, even if you don't understand every word.

Connect

Making connections between what you learn in other subject areas and what you are learning in your Spanish class will increase your understanding of the new material, help you retain it longer, and enrich your learning experience.

Have fun!

Above all, remember to have fun! Learn as much as you can, because the more you know, the easier it will be for you to relax—and that will make your learning easier and more effective.

Buena suerte! (Good luck!)

12 El club de español

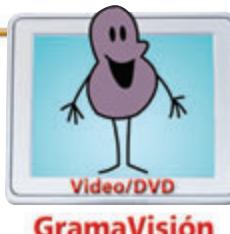

Hablemos Imagine that you and your partner have both just joined the Spanish Club at your school. Greet each other, find out each other's name and where each other is from. Then introduce one another to a classmate.

Objetivos

- Subjects and verbs in sentences
- Subject pronouns

Gramática en acción 1

Nota cultural

Students in Spanish-speaking countries address teachers in several ways. Women may be called by their title and first name (Señorita Rosa) or by title and last name (Señora García). If the teacher is older, she may be addressed as doña with her first name, such as doña Josefina. Similarly, men may be addressed as don Pablo (title and first name) or Señor Gómez (title and last name).

Compare this to the way you address your teachers.

La Plaza de Cibeles, Madrid

Subjects and verbs in sentences

- 1 In English, sentences have a subject and a verb. The subject is the person or thing that is being described or is doing something. The verb is the action word like run or sing, or a word like am, is, or are that links the subject to a description.

*Mrs. Pérez is my teacher.
She is from Madrid.*

subject verb
*La señora Pérez es mi profesora.
Ella es de Madrid.*

- 3 Both English and Spanish use nouns as subjects. Nouns can be replaced with pronouns. Some examples of Spanish pronouns you have seen are él, ella, tú and usted.

*Juan es un compañero de clase.
Juan is a classmate.* él stands for Juan
*Él es mi mejor amigo.
He is my best friend.*

- 4 English sentences always have a subject or a subject pronoun. But in Spanish the subject or the subject pronoun can be left out if everyone knows who you're talking about.

*Maria is my friend.
She is from Spain.*

*Maria es mi amiga.
Es de España. Ella can be left out.*

1. Susana is my friend.
2. She is from Spain.
3. Mrs. García is my teacher.
4. She is from Madrid.
5. Susana es mi amiga.
6. Es de España.
7. La señora García es mi profesora.
8. Es de Madrid.

14 ¿Quién es quién?

Leamos Identify the subjects and the verbs in the following sentences. Then say whether you would use él or ella in place of each subject.

1. Laura es de Toledo. Es una compañera de clase.
2. Juan es mi mejor amigo. Es estudiante.
3. La señora Ayala es mi profesora de ciencias. Es de Perú.
4. El señor Garza es mi profesor de español. Es de España.
5. El muchacho es un compañero de clase. Es de Estados Unidos.
6. La señorita Jiménez es de la República Dominicana. Es mi profesora de matemáticas.
7. Ramiro es un compañero de clase. Es de Cuba.
8. Don Pablo es profesor. Es de México.
9. Doña Lourdes es de Panamá. Es profesora.

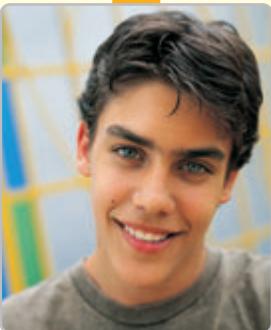

15 ¿De quién hablas?

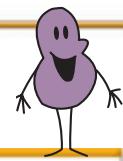

Leamos/Hablemos Use at least three phrases from the word box to write a description of one of the people pictured below. Read your description aloud to your partner. He or she will guess which person you have just described. Then switch roles.

Éste es el señor Madero.
Él es mi mejor amigo.

Subject pronouns

En inglés

In English, the subject pronoun you is used with anyone, no matter their age or relationship to you.

In Spanish, the pronoun you use (tú or usted) is based on your relationship to the person.

In English, is you used to talk to one person, more than one person, or both? How does this compare with Spanish usage of usted and ustedes?

- 1 These are the subject pronouns in Spanish.

yo /	nosotros we nosotras we (all female) tú you	vosotros you vosotras you (all female) usted you	ustedes you él he	ellos they
ella she	ellas they (all female)

- 2 The subject pronouns tú and usted both mean you when you're talking to one person. However, they are used in different situations.

friend relative someone your age	Familiar	Formal tú	usted

teacher adult you've just met someone you show respect to

Although subject pronouns are often left out, the pronoun usted is commonly stated when addressing someone to show respect.

¿Cómo está usted? How are you?

- 3 The subject pronouns ustedes and vosotros mean you when talking to more than one person. They are also used in different situations.

friends relatives people your age	Familiar (in Spain)	Formal and Familiar	ustedes vosotros

any group

- 4 The pronouns nosotros, vosotros, and ellos have feminine forms.

group of all males group of males and females	Masculine	Feminine nosotros	nosotras
	vosotros (Spain)	vosotras (Spain)
	ellos	ellas

group of all females

16 ¿Cómo le(s) dices?

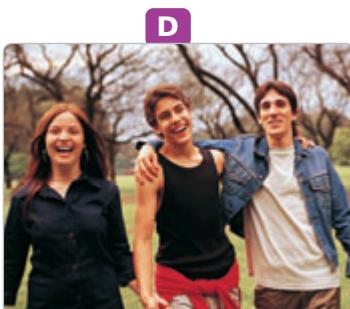

Hablemos What pronouns would you use to speak to these people?

1. two or more teachers
2. a group of female students (in Spain)
3. your best friend
4. a school principal
5. two or more males
6. a group of male and female students (in Spain)

17 ¿Con quién habla Javier?

Escuchemos Listen as Javier, a teenager from Spain, talks to his friends and teachers. Match each statement with the correct picture. Remember that Javier uses vosotros and vosotras.

18 Nuevos amigos

Leamos/Escribamos Complete this conversation using the correct subject pronouns.

- Hola. 1 (I) soy Rosalinda Chávez. Y 2 (he) es mi amigo Juan. ¿Cómo te llamas 3 (you)?
 —4 (I) me llamo Antonia. Y 5 (she) es mi amiga Talía. 6 (We—Talía and I) somos de Estados Unidos. Juan y tú, ¿de dónde son 7 (you, plural)?

19 Eres reportero(a)

Hablemos Imagine that you are a reporter interviewing new students and teachers for the school paper. With a partner, role-play one interview with a student and one with a teacher. Use the cues below.

1. Greet the person you are interviewing.
2. Ask what his or her name is.
3. Ask where he or she is from.
4. Say goodbye.

Comparaciones

Buenos amigos, Madrid

¿Cómo saludas a tus amigos, familiares y profesores?

Spanish speakers usually greet each other with a handshake or kiss, depending on the situation. Here, you will see several people greet each other in different situations. See if you can find any similarities to the greetings and goodbyes you use with your friends, family, and teachers.

Saludos informales

In Spain, friends and family members may greet each other with two kisses, one on each cheek. In Latin America, friends and family members kiss each other on only one cheek. Men and boys greet each other with a hug, a pat on the back, or a handshake. In some Latin American countries, men who have not seen each other in a long time greet with a handshake, followed by a hug, followed by a second handshake.

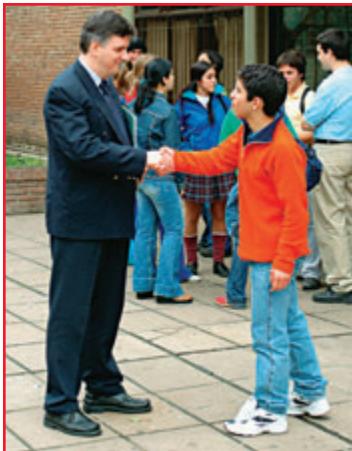

—Hola, madrina, ¿cómo estás?

—¡Hola amigo! ¡Tanto tiempo!

—¿Cómo estás?

Saludos formales

In professional or school settings, or when meeting someone for the first time, the usual greeting in Spain and Latin America is a handshake.

—Mucho gusto.

—Igualmente.

—Es un compañero de clase.

—Encantado.

Cultura

Para comprender

- How would a young girl greet her grandparents in Spain?
- How would a young girl greet her grandparents in Latin America?
- How would a businessman and a businesswoman greet each other in Spain or Latin America?
- In Latin America, how might a boy greet his uncle if they haven't seen each other in a long time?

Para pensar y hablar

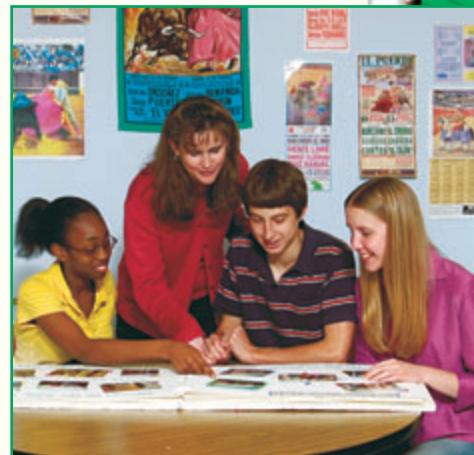

Among family and close friends, hugs and kisses are common greetings throughout the Spanish-speaking world. Do family and close friends in your community greet each other with hugs, kisses, or handshakes? With a partner, model how two people might greet each other with a handshake in Spain or Latin America.

Comunidad

Join the Spanish Club!

At your school you probably have lots of clubs and organizations where you can meet new people, and there may even be some clubs where you can get to know Spanish speakers from around the world. What other resources do you have in your community to help you find and meet Spanish speakers? Are there clubs or associations listed in the phone book? Can you find any through the Internet? What are some advantages to having access to these groups?

Gramática en acción 2

The present tense of the verb ser

¿Te acuerdas?

You've used forms of the verb ser to say who someone is or where you or others are from, to give your telephone number, and to say the date, the day, and the time.

Éste es un compañero de clase.

Yo soy de Perú.

Mi teléfono es 555-5555.

Hoy es el diez de febrero.

Hoy es jueves.

Son las tres de la tarde.

- 1 In Spanish, a verb has different forms to tell you who the subject is. Changing a verb form so that it matches its subject is called conjugating. This is the conjugation of the verb ser (to be).

yo soy	I am	nosotros(as) somos	we are tú eres	you are	vosotros(as) sois	you are usted es	you are	ustedes son	you are él es	he is	ellos son	they are
ella es	she is	ellas son	they are

With nouns and names of people, use the same form of the verb as for él/ella or ellos/ellas.

Mi profesora es de Cuba. My teacher is from Cuba. Juan y Carlos son de España. Juan and Carlos are from Spain.

- 2 To make a sentence negative, place no in front of the verb.

Mi profesora no es de México. Es de España. My teacher isn't from Mexico. She's from Spain.

Punctuation marks and written accents

- 1 In Spanish, upside-down punctuation marks such as (¿) and (¡) are placed at the beginning of a phrase to signal a question or an exclamation. These are used along with those that come at the end of phrases.

¡Hasta luego!
¿Cómo se llama ella?

- 2 In Spanish, some words have written accent marks. An accent mark is a tilted line (‘) placed over a vowel. Putting accent marks over vowels is part of spelling words correctly. When learning new words, memorize where the accent marks are.

Adiós.
¿Cuál?

- 3 The wavy line in the letter ñ is called a tilde. The ñ is pronounced similarly to the ny in the word canyon.

38 En la clase

Hablemos Today is the first day of school. With a partner, create brief conversations for each scene. Then perform a scene for the class and have your classmates guess which scene it is.

¿Quién será?

Episodio 1

ESTRATEGIA

Making Connections Sometimes, as a story unfolds on screen, things happen in different parts of the world at the same time. Although the connection between those events may not be immediately obvious, as an experienced viewer, you know that one probably exists. In this episode, you will see things going on in Spain, Mexico, and Puerto Rico at the same time. Look for clues that help explain the connection among the events in all three locations.

En España

In Madrid, Spain, a woman is studying the files of a Mexican student and a Puerto Rican student. She calls her assistant, Marcos, and makes an appointment to meet with him.

La profesora Y tú, Sofía Corona Ramírez, eres de México, ¿no es así? Hmm... Nicolás Ortega García, el artista puertorriqueño.

La profesora Sí, Marcos. Necesito hablar contigo. Sí, pronto. Es urgente. A ver, mañana es domingo. Bien, el lunes, en mi casa. Sí, a las diez de la mañana. Oye, ¿cuál es tu e-mail? Te quiero enviar unos documentos. Bien. Nos vemos el lunes.

En México

In Mexico City, Mexico, a girl named Sofía is having breakfast before going to school. Both her father and her little brother interrupt her.

3

Sr. Corona Buenos días, Sofía... Hola, Sofía, buenos días...

4

Quique Sofía, Sofía, ¡cara de tortilla!

En Puerto Rico

In San Juan, Puerto Rico, a boy named Nicolás is in a rush on his way home from school. He bumps into some of his neighbors.

5

Sra. Ortiz ¡Buenas tardes, Nico!

Nicolás ¡Buenas tardes, Señora Ortiz!

6

Nicolás ¡Uy, perdón, don Pablo! ¿Cómo está usted?

Don Pablo Estoy bien, gracias, Nico. ¿Y tú? ¿Cómo estás tú?

¿COMPRENDES?

1. Why does la profesora need to talk to Marcos? Could it have something to do with the students in the files? On what day will she meet with him?
2. What is Sofía doing while she eats breakfast? Does this tell you anything about her?
3. What is Nicolás holding under his arm? What can you tell about him from this? Does anything else in this episode support your conclusion?
4. Are the Sofía and Nicolás you see in Mexico and Puerto Rico the same students la profesora talks about? Why do you think so?

Próximo episodio

Marcos goes to visit la profesora. Can you predict what she might ask him to do?

ESTRATEGIA

para leer Recognizing cognates

Cognates are words that look alike and have similar meanings in two languages. Recognizing these words will help you get a general idea of what a reading passage is about.

A Antes de leer

Look at the homepage for one school's Spanish Club. To get an idea of what the club has to offer, write all the cognates you can find on a separate sheet of paper. Compare your list with a classmate's and try to guess what each word means. If you are not sure, look the word up in a dictionary.

B Comprehension

Based on the reading, say if the following statements are true (cierto) or false (falso). Correct the false statements.

1. The Spanish Club offers a variety of fun and interesting activities.
2. The club sponsors summer trips to Spanish-speaking countries.
3. If you join the club, you will be able to correspond with students from Asia.
4. The club offers salsa and merengue classes on Fridays.
5. The club homepage provides you with links to other sites.

C Después de leer

Would you like to become a member of this club? Why or why not? Which activity seems the most interesting to you? What other activities would you suggest if you were a member?

Taller del escritor

para escribir You can often get ideas for writing by making a list of everything that you want to include in your work. List all your ideas even if you don't know how to say something in Spanish. You can get help later from the dictionary if you need to find a specific word or phrase.

La página Web del club de español

You have joined the Spanish Club. The club asks all new members to write a short paragraph about themselves to be posted on the club's Web site. In your paragraph, be sure to include your name, where you are from, and your e-mail address.

Nombre
Número de teléfono
Correo electrónico
Soy de ...

1 Antes de escribir

Make a list of the information you will need for the Web site. You may use English or Spanish for this step.

2 Escribir un borrador

Write your information in complete sentences in Spanish.

3 Revisar

Read your sentences at least twice. Make sure you have included all the information you want to post on the Web site. Then check your spelling and punctuation.

4 Publicar

Post your completed paragraph on the bulletin board or your class Web site.

Repaso de Gramática 1

Every sentence has a subject and a verb. The verb tells what the subject does or links the subject to a description.

La señora Pérez es mi profesora.

The subject pronouns in Spanish are:

yo	nosotros(as)
tú	vosotros(as)
usted/él/ella	ustedes/ellos/ellas

The subject pronouns tú and usted both mean you. Use tú when you're talking to a friend. Use usted to show respect towards elders and professors. When talking to a group of people, use ustedes to say you. In Spain only, use vosotros(as) to say you to a group of friends, family, or children.

¿De dónde es usted? ¿De dónde eres tú?

The Spanish Club is meeting for the first time to get to know new members. Introduce yourself to the new exchange student from Spain, tell him or her where you are from, and ask how he or she is doing. Using gestures and expressions you've learned in this chapter, introduce this person to someone else. Try to speak to four people before you finish.
