SAUSD

The Future Begins Here

Dear SAUSD community,

I want to welcome all of our students, families, and staff to the start of the 2022-23 school year. Our entire District team is excited for the year ahead. First, I want to reassure our community that the safety and well-being of our students and staff remains the district's top priority. As we begin the new year, we will continue to follow the latest guidance from local and state health agencies and take all necessary precautions to ensure our schools remain among the safest places for children.

As such, masking remains highly recommended, but not mandated, for all indoor activities at every school site. Additionally, all schools will have appropriate masks available. COVID-19 testing resources will also be available for any student or staff member. Other resources will also continue to be provided at each school and District to support health and well-being. This pandemic continues to affect all of us. But I am confident that by working together we can continue to overcome many of the challenges we face.
