Dear Parents,

Our school is participating in an important district initiative. It is called Positive Behavior Interventions and Supports (PBIS).

What is Positive Behavior Interventions and Supports?

PBIS is a process for creating safer and more effective schools. It is a systems approach to enhancing the capacity of schools to educate all children by developing research-based, school-wide, and classroom behavior support systems. The process focuses on improving a school's ability to teach and support positive behavior for all students. Rather than a prescribed program, PBIS provides systems for schools to design, implement, and evaluate effective school-wide, classroom, non-classroom, and student specific plans. PBIS includes school-wide procedures and processes intended for all students and all staff in all settings. PBIS is not a program or a curriculum. It is a team-based process for systemic problem solving, planning, and evaluation. It is an approach to creating a safe and productive learning environment where teachers can teach and all students can learn.

What is PBIS at our school?

We have adopted a unified set of school-wide rules. These rules define our expectations for behavior in our school. You will see these rules posted throughout the school. Your child will be learning them during his or her first days at school and they will be reviewed during Friday morning announcements throughout the school year. Our R.O.A.R rules, found in every classroom and non-classroom setting in the school, are as follows:

Rule #1: R: Respectful

Rule #2: O: Obedient

Rule #3: A: Attentive

Rule #4: R: Responsible

As part of our PBIS process, teachers and other staff members use evidence-based practices to increase student learning and decrease classroom disruptions. To encourage students to follow the rules in a positive manner, we do the following when teaching academics and behavior:

- ⇒ Constantly teach and refer to our school-wide expectations.
- ⇒ Provide students with more praise than correction.
- ⇒ Talk to students with respect using a positive voice tone.
- ⇒ Actively engage everyone in the class during instruction.
- ⇒ Use pre-correcting, prompting, and redirecting as we teach.
- ⇒ Look for the positive first and provide positive, immediate, frequent, and explicit feedback.

We also have a school-wide system of consequences:

1. First Incident - Verbal Warning
2. Second Incident - Written Minor Consequence
3. Third Incident - Loss of Privilege
4. Fourth Incident - Parent Conversation (phone or conference); Assign Detention; Send Discipline Report to office.

Unfortunately, for the most serious incidents such as when a student poses a danger to persons or property or threatens to disrupt the instructional process there will be more severe consequences, including possible suspension.

If you have questions about Positive Behavior Interventions and Supports, please feel free to contact your child's teacher. We look forward to a wonderful year of teaching your child.

Sincerely,

Jefferson PBIS Team
