SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

Superintendent Almendarez shared that the COVID-19 rates continue to trend in the right direction. Absentee rates and rates of staff out sick, or in quarantine, have dropped significantly over the past weeks. He thanked all staff and families for doing everything in their power to keep schools open and safe. He added that free daily testing clinics continue to be offered for any community member and invited everyone to visit the District social media sites for the latest time, dates, and locations. Mr. Almendarez stated that Governor Newsom recently announced that some indoor mask mandates will expire on February 15 but does not apply to schools in California. Indoor masking requirements will continue in schools until further guidance is provided from state and local health care agencies.

Superintendent announced that February is Black History Month. The District and schools are proud to celebrate Black History Month. He encouraged all community members to reflect this month by acknowledging the sacrifices and contributions made by Black Americans and their role in our nation's history. This week is also National School Counseling Week. The Board of Education recently adopted a resolution proclaiming February 2022 as School Counselor Month. SAUSD is proud to recognize school counselors and their many contributions to school communities not just this week, but through the rest of the month. Mr. Almendarez added that our amazing team of counselors work tirelessly every day to support students' social-emotional and academic success and will play a vital role in the District's efforts to roll out the Graduate Profile. He encouraged everyone to please thank a school counselor this week for their service to our community. Superintendent provided an update on the Native American grant application.

There are approximately 25 Native American parents interested in forming an SAUSD parent group. The District has hired two CalNEW Grant FACE Liaisons that will work specifically to support Immigrant families, Migrant families, Refugee families, and Native American families. A District team will attend two webinars in coming weeks with the government agency overseeing the issuance of the Native American Grant.

Mr. Almendarez also shared that SAUSD will host a series of three community meetings for families of students in special education programs over the next few weeks. These meetings are in addition to the monthly Community Advisory Committee meetings. The goal for these three meetings is for families to have additional opportunities to provide input as we continue to develop priorities for special education programs and are open to all parents. For information on times, dates and locations visit www.sausd.us. Finally, he thanked the city of Santa Ana and Mayor Vince Sarmiento for their recognition of SAUSD during the recent State of the City address. Mayor Sarmiento spoke highly of the District's efforts to support families, and provide opportunities for children to succeed. Several student performers also participated in this event. The District looks forward to continuing the strong partnership with Mayor Sarmiento and the city of Santa Ana.
