ABOUT THE COMPANY

Our business focal point is to allow everyone to be able to communicate with other people who speaks different languages, and we noticed that diversion is increasing in our world today. Our business product is an earpiece that connects through an app, and into the earpiece. Our mission is to reduce turn over and break down language barriers.

Our company is devoted to connecting everyone from around the world through language. ConneXus is a revolutionary startup business that is in the sector of innovative technology for communication around the world. We sell earpieces that contain specific features and languages.

We currently have three products, in which are called the Emissary, the Diplomat, and the Ambassador. These pair of earpieces translate multiple languages into the language of your own. The Emissary model comes with three languages, such as Spanish, English, and French, plus two extra slots if you want to buy extra languages. As for the Diplomat model, it contains regional languages from your location with three slots. Our final model, the Ambassador, will include music capability, contain five languages pre-installed into the earpieces, five slots storage, special colors, and have the ability to make calls while using them.
